

Come and join Earthwatch Australia, Cheryl the Crab and Mangrove Jock on the Great Southern Bioblitz

Townsville Schools – Get Involved!

Join a hands-on science and leadership opportunity exploring the vital role of local saltmarshes and mangroves.

Free Excursion for Schools

What's involved:

- Students will work side-by-side with scientists to survey the saltmarsh and wetland areas
- Learn how to identify plants, invertebrates, and birds
- Record your findings to contribute to a real scientific database
- Develop ideas for conservation or restoration activities

Take this a chance to become a scientist for a day! You'll be contributing to national biodiversity data and building leadership in wetland protection.

EVENT DATE

October 24th - Friday
9.30am - 12.30pm
Victoria Park

Eligibility

Students from TOWNSVILLE schools
Applications close
October 20th 2025 at 11:59PM

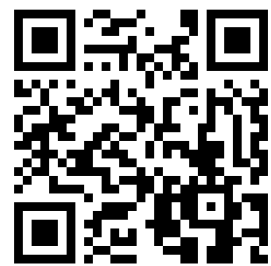

Download the iNaturalist app for use during the event (optional)

Apply now!

Click here, use the QR code or copy the link to your browser to apply: <https://forms.gle/i7TA3nJumv5Rnx8y8>

Be quick! Numbers are strictly limited!

Earthwatch Great Southern Bioblitz Team education.programs@earthwatch.org.au

Generously funded by

Great Barrier
Reef Foundation